

Imaginary Lines

Ron Warren

Look at all the imaginary lines

Let's go erase some today.

Are they real or just in our minds,

The things that stand in our way?

What is it that separates me from you?

The color of our eyes or the cost of our shoes?

Something that's given or something we choose?

If you win, do I have to lose?

There's where here ends and there begins

Say the treaties and borders.

Here's where you end and I begin.

How long do we keep following orders?

Look at all the imaginary lines...

Ten thousand years says that's a river,

Doesn't matter what your maps might say.

Call it a border, build a wall if you want to,

I'm gonna see my cousin today.

Imaginary lines can't crowd our lives.

Imaginary lines can't keep me away from you.

Imaginary lines can't crowd our lives.

Imaginary lines can't keep me away from you.

Don't wanna mess with your personal space,

I'd just like to meet you face to face.

Hiding from each other keeps us stuck in place.

It's one big dance this human race.
